The primary form of submission is a Word document via e-mail to lap@ucr.edu with the subject line "Author Name - manuscript submission." Manuscripts should be no longer than 8,000 words, double-spaced, in English, Spanish, Portuguese, or French. LAP translates accepted non-English manuscripts. Include a cover sheet with the author's name, contact information, affiliations, an abstract of 150 words, and five keywords.

Please see www.latinamericanperspectives.com for Style Guidelines (under the "Submit to LAP" tab where current calls for manuscripts, additional submission information, and description of the review process are also available). Manuscripts should be original work not previously published in English in the same or similar form. Submission of a manuscript implies commitment to publish in the journal. Over the years Latin American Perspectives has offered a continuous flow of free, independent and critical knowledge about Latin America. Such a sustained effort is all the more remarkable as it has managed to address the most burning issues through solid empirical work and pluralistic theoretical analyses without losing sight of the deep structural fault lines haunting the subcontinent since colonial times. Its continuation and flourishing is of great importance particularly in the current turbulent times.

Boaventura de Sousa Santos,
University of Coimbra, University of Wisconsin-Madison

Durante más de 40 años Latin American Perspectives ha sido una ventana a América Latina, abierta al pensamiento crítico y a los diálogos interdisciplinarios. Ninguna otra revista de habla inglesa ha logrado incorporar como autores y editores a tantos intelectuales latinoamericanos. Su publicación bi-mensual ha sido fundamental para mantener los diálogos académicos y políticos entre el norte y el sur de las Américas.
